Description :

Universitas Indonesia is concerned about the state of public health services in Indonesia. The university demonstrates its commitment to improve public health management, research, and health sciences education through collaborations with various institutions in the public health sector in order to improve local and global health and well-being. The partnership between UI and the various stakeholders in Indonesia is formally formulated since 2017 through the Rector's Decree Number 0399/SK/R/UI/2017 on the Academic Health System. Academic health system is a network formed by faculties within the health science cluster (faculty of medicine, faculty of dentistry, faculty of public health, faculty of nursery, faculty of pharmacy).

Universitas Indonesia is very concerned about the state of public health services. Consequently, to improve these services, UI continues to carry out collaborations with various institutions in the public health sector to improve local and global health and well-being. It is hoped that through these collaborations, health services in the community will improve and increase in number, so that people do not have to worry about health service problems anymore.
