Description :

Universitas Indonesia recognizes student unions at the university and faculty levels. Student unions provide a forum for students to actualize their intellectual abilities, voice their aspirations, and develop their talents and hobbies through activities that have a positive impact on campus life and the general public. The student unions consist of student organizations at the university and faculty levels. university level and faculty level. They help students hone leadership, team building, communication, and networking skills that will prepare them for the world of work. Based on their function, student associations at UI are categorized based on their core activities.

BEM UI is an organization dedicated to all UI students to channel their work and contributions. They aim to encourage and assist students in realizing valuable achievements. In addition, they are basically present to raise, nourish, and produce the best and inspirational people from UI students, the community around UI, and potential Indonesia.
